MISCELLANEOUS READING. THE VILLAGE COURTSHIP.

> Tapping at the window, Peeping o'er the blind, Tis really most surprising, He never learns to mind: Twas only yester evening, As in the dark we sat,

My mother asked me sharply, "Pray, Minna, who is that?" Who's that, indeed! you're certain How much she made me start; Men seem to lose their wisdom When e'er they lose their heart.

Yes! there he is-I see him! The lamp his shadow throws Across the curtained window-He's stepping on his toes! He'll never think of tapping Or making any din, A knock, though even the slightest.

Is worse than looking in:

Tap! tap! would any think it?

He never learns to mind, 'Tis surely most surprising He thinks my mother's blind. Tis plain I must go to bim; I'll ope the door just softly— If but to send him off. 'Tis well if from the door step He be not shortly hurled: Oh man there ne'er was trouble

'Till you came in the world!

And peeping o'er the blind Oh man! but you're a trouble

We know of a firm in the business part of this city the members of which suffer much in consequence of a wide spread reputation for amiability. Upon the coming on of an unex-COUNTERFEIT GOLD AND SILVER DE-TECTOR.—A liquid preparation for the to their store to borrow an umbrella. As mediate detection of bad coin. Every merchant the umbrellas thus borrowed were rarely reand shopkeeper should have it. Price 25 cts. Prepared by DR. R. H. STABLER, lenders still willing to oblige, purchased half lenders still willing to oblige, purchased half a dozen ginghams, and had the names of the owners incribed upon the handles. This mild reminder to careless borrowers was a dead failure, and the half dozen were soon irreclaimably scattered. Another half dozen N. E. cor. of King and Wash sts. ginghams were purchased, and more violent measures here resorted to by way of securing their return. The name of the owners was painted boldly upon the inside of the covering, so that not only the carrier, but passers by would see it when the article was in use. But alas for the shamelessness of umbrella K EREOSENE OIL and Kereosene Lamps, of the most approved construction; also, Ethered Oil Lamps and Solar Lamps, altered to barn decessors to the bourne from whence no borborrowers, this expedient also failed miserdecessors to the bourne from whence no bor-Kereosene Oil; a full supply, received and for sale by HENRY COOK & CO., rowed umbrella returns, The next experiment was to have an inscription put in riment was to have an inscription put in the next lot of ginghams in the following style: "Borrowed from-No .-- Chestnut Street!" This was painted in flaming capitals, where it could be seen and read of all men when the umbrella was up, and the owners rubbed their hands in gleesome anticipation of the result. The first rain scattered the half dozen breadcast through the city, and a very few storms sufficed to wash them permanently out of existence, so far as template getting up a cheap lot to give away,
